PRICE LIST OF BERRY
AND SMALL FRUIT
PLANTS

EFFECTIVE AUGUST 15, 1921
[This List Cancels all Previous Quotations]

TO THE TRADE ONLY

I take pleasure in presenting herewith my Price List for the coming season. Believing that the proper time has arrived for the lowering of prices in conformity with conditions which warrant same, I have acted accordingly, and you will note that my prices are now considerably lower than the average, mostly due to the fact that we grow our own stock, and can therefore deliver first-class stock at reasonable prices, which is sure to give entire satisfaction.

M. J. MONIZ

Berry Specialist

P. O. Box 264

SEBASTOPOL, CALIFORNIA, U. S. A.

To my Friends and Customers

I have now been in the berry business for over 25 years, and for the last 15 years I have been making a specialty of growing small fruit plants for the trade. During that time I have learned exactly what is wanted by my many customers by making it a practice of furnishing them with plants of high grade and quality, that are strictly true to name, and therefore assure the buyer that my methods of dealing with him are on basis of fairness and square dealing.

During the large number of years that I have been engaged in the berry business I have placed myself in a position whereby I can grow practically all of my own stock, this being proven by my large Berry Farms here, consisting of nearly one hundred acres of all the principal commercial varieties, besides my nursery grounds. This enables me to quote prices to anyone on any size order, be it large or small. The result is that the plants are shipped direct from my berry farms and packing sheds, thereby assuring the buyer of delivery of freshly dug plants, in good condition.

Am pleased to advise my friends and customers that owing to the favorable weather conditions this season my stock is of superior quality; plants have made a very thrifty growth, and taken on considerable root. And while I have a large quantity to offer of some varieties, I would advise customers to place their orders early, to assure delivery. The shipping season is rapidly approaching, so will be pleased to hear from you. At the same time submit your wants to me, as I am certain I can quote you a price that will be reasonable, and will assure you that any orders you may place with me will receive my best attention at all times; and kindly remember that if you are not interested in anything in my line at the present time, that I make a specialty of growing stock on contract, of any variety or grade listed, for delivery the following season, under favorable terms, and therefore enable you to sell in advance.

Should you prefer to have a sample of any variety you are interested in before ordering, I will be glad to send you one equal to what the delivery will be.

Thanking you for all favors in the past, also trusting that these remarks will receive your earnest consideration, and that I may hear from you, I beg to remain,

Respectfully yours,

M. J. MONIZ.
